The March 24th Dunamis Charge Twitter Spaces Series "Plugged In " will offer insight on:

- How urban communities are disproportionately impacted by greenhouse gas emissions
- How funds pledged by the Biden Administration's BIL initiatives, including NEVI, IRA, and the Justice40 Initiative can greatly aid black and brown communities and diverse businesses in capitalizing on the wealth boom the EV space is poised for while making a significant impact on the underserved

- The power of women in leadership championing the fight against climate change for all

WHEN: Friday, March 24th, 2023 at 8 pm EST/5 pm EST

WHERE: Twitter Spaces: @dunamisenergy1

WHY: Dunamis Charge CEO, Natalie King ideated the "Plugged In" Twitter Spaces series because of her passion for developing and exposing opportunities for wealth creation and participation in the electrification and mobility boom that's happening throughout the world right now. As Founder of Dunamis Charge, whose motto is EV is for Everyone!™, King is determined that minorities and women are not left behind.

King deemed Women's History Month as the appropriate time to launch "Plugged In" and hand-selected fellow esteemed women panelists who share her vision of ensuring that communities of color are educated about, and have access to the information and resources to level the playing field for participation in opportunities in the electrification and mobility space.

Dunamis Charge's March 24th Twitter Spaces dialog is the first in a curated series of compelling and informative conversations to come. Global audiences can tune in and participate by clicking: <https://twitter.com/dunamisenergy1/status/1635681593892249600?s=46&t=mov5Di7zA2k9Py2git5E7A>
